On Sunday, April 7, STAR Flight is scheduled to kick off the International Association of Flight & Critical Care Paramedics (IAFCCP) golf outing at the Crenshaw Cliffside Course at Barton Creek.

The event begins at 2:30 p.m. with a shot-gun start and STAR Flight fly-away. The golf outing is held in conjunction with the Critical Care Transport Medicine Conference, April 8-10 at the Austin Sheraton.

The green fee for the golf event is $150 per person and includes a cart and access to practice areas. The event promises fun, prizes, barbeque and a live band.

To participate, contact IAFCCP Executive Director Monica Newman at 4835 Riveredge Cove, Snellville, GA 30039; phone: 770-979-6372; email: m.newman@flightparamedic.org.

The Critical Care Transport Medicine Conference is designed to address topics pertinent to the prehospital and emergency care of the critically ill and injured patient. The conference is designed to give physicians, nurses, paramedics, respiratory therapists and allied healthcare professionals a deeper understanding of the essentials of care required for the complex patient needing critical care air and ground transport.
